

Environmental Justice Component in the Louisville Star Program Needs to be Added

- Regulation should be drafted for West End and Portland residents, who have borne a disproportional burden of toxic emissions for decades, that allows these residents relocation to a more suitable area at market value of their homes.
- Regulation should be drafted requiring spatial distance from toxic polluting plants.
- Regulation should be drafted that states that whatever pollution is allowed that it will not be a liability on the health of citizens.
- Regulation should be drafted requiring a moratorium on industry in areas where there is a high density of industries (such as Rubbertown).